The Club is registered in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998. Club Rule, Section 28, Data Protection: The Club may use information collected on membership forms and other approved documents for the purposes of running the Club, and may transfer such data outside of the boundaries of the European Union. All such purposes to be at the discretion of the Executive Committee. The Club collect only data relevant to necessary administrative and managerial functions of the Club and for the purposes of fulfilling the objects of the Club as in Rule Section 2. Your date of birth is now included as essential information, as it, combined with your new issue membership number, gives us the sufficiently rigorous verification data that you need when accessing your records or if required when we need to identify you over the telephone. These details also enable us to map the Club membership age demographic and plan accordingly for the future. The Club is the founder and major shareholder of the VOC Spares Company Limited; we share sufficient information with them to enable them to verify you are a current Club Member and so qualify for Member discount off their products and to enable you to purchase Club badged regalia. All elected Club Officials and appointed Club Officers will have the appropriate access to your records as is required to carry out their Club duties. Your personal details will not be provided to, or shared with any other persons or organisations except in the case of assisting the police or the English Courts with their legal duties in accordance with the provisions laid down in the Data Protection Act. Records of your financial transactions with the Club shall only be available to personnel who have a clear financial brief, except in extraordinary circumstances where this information is required by the Club's Committees. Records shall be accurately maintained, providing Members keep us fully informed. Out of date personal details will be removed from the records after 12 months redundancy. Members names however shall remain in a permanent archive. As the Club has as paramount an historical foundation, all information about Members' machines shall be kept in a permanent historical archive. Information in this archive will not be deleted. Current ownership of machines will not be revealed to other persons, during the current owners life time, without the expressed permission of the owner/Club Member. Details in the machine archive, other than current ownership, may be used for the purposes of research, verification of historical provenance, and the prevention of fraud. Data Protection Warning: Commercially available software makes it possible to identify a location address from a telephone number. This may be of importance to Members who give contact details for the Rider's List, as this is circulated to all Members who purchase it. The list however is designed to exclude overt references to the Club's name, Vincents and Motorcycles so its purpose should be opaque to non-Members.
